2025 McMaster Dorm Room FAQs

Please read carefully, as these Frequently Asked Questions contain important information about dorm room accommodations.

How do I log into my McMaster booking account?

If you booked a dorm room at McMaster previously, you will need to log into that same account to book this year. If you forgot your password there is a link to recover it on the registration page. If you have not created a booking with McMaster before, please make a new account.

Can I book more than one room?

No, guests can only book one room per account. We advise that each room is booked for the person intending to sleep in it, as rooms are non-transferrable and non-refundable.

Can I book more than one room and cancel one later?

No, McMaster accommodation bookings are non-transferrable to other guests and are non-refundable. Please ensure that you can confirm your attendance and occupy the room before making a reservation. You cannot book multiple rooms using the same account.

I don't know yet who I am rooming with, can I add in this information later?

Yes, you can decide who your roommate will be at a later date, and you do not need to provide their information prior to arrival. However, if you are on a team, discuss the plan for accommodations with your teammates. They may want to book a multi-occupancy room with teammates. Please note that one person will need to book a multi-occupancy room, and then be reimbursed by their roommates.

Can my roommate(s) pick up their keys on their own without me?

No, if you booked a multi-occupancy room, you must decide in advance who will pick up the keys for everyone in the room.

The guest who makes the booking will receive a confirmation email from McMaster that contains a unique barcode. Either you, or your roommate are permitted to pick up the keys using the barcode, but both keys must be collected together. McMaster cannot hold onto one guest's keys.

Where can I find the barcode for my booking?

This barcode is in the email you received at the time when you made the reservation, and again in an email sent during the week leading up to the event weekend. If you do not receive an email confirming your booking within 1 hour from when your booking has been confirmed, please send an email to reserve@mcmaster.ca to obtain this confirmation email, as it contains important information about your stay.

This barcode (also known as the confirmation code) will be emailed to you again closer to the event date, along with other relevant information regarding your stay.

What amenities are included in my room?

Shampoo, conditioner, soap, towels, plastic cup, as well as bed linens and a pillow. If you plan on taking more than 1 shower during your stay, we suggest you bring an extra bath towel! If you will be staying in a residence building with shared or communal washrooms, don't forget to bring your flip flops!

I don't like the buildings I see online/I can't find my desired building or room; how can I book the one I want?

The rooms listed in the booking link are the rooms that are available for booking at this time. Dorm room bookings are available on a first-come first-serve basis. All of McMaster's residence buildings are secure, clean and temperature regulated; we trust you will enjoy your stay at whichever building you book on McMaster's campus!

When does the dorm room booking link close?

Dorm rooms are available to book on a first-come, first-serve basis. The booking link will close when all rooms have been booked.
